Message from the Principal

Hong Kong has undergone so many changes and faced many challenges in these few years that everyone who lives here has a different story to tell. Nonetheless, difficulties and instability create perfect opportunities to put your strength to the test and train your mind for success.

To think positively is something easier said than done. How many strong minds can actually exercise the power of positive thinking during difficult times? Our school has also faced many challenges in these few years, but I'm pleased to say that our teachers have dedicated themselves as true professionals to acquire new skills to teach our students. During classroom observations, I've seen a dramatic improvement in teaching strategies and students' learning attitude and classroom participation through e-Learning.

It was the best of times, it was the worst of times;

it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness;

it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity;

it was the season of Light, it was the season of Darkness;

it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair;

we had everything before us, we had nothing before us;

we were all going direct to Heaven,

we were all going direct the other way.

— CHARLES DICKENS

E-Learning provides a larger variety of engaging activities with more personalized features and greater effectiveness. I'm so proud of our teachers for their extraordinary achievements! Parents too have to juggle their work, family life and children's schoolwork, which can be very demanding especially during the pandemic. Therefore, I'm truly grateful to the parents for being beside us and making efforts to follow our policies and procedures in order to help keep learning going. I'm deeply touched by the parents' understanding and support, and their readiness to work together with us.

No one can be certain when the world will return to normal, but I do believe that with the trust and support of one another and with hope and determination, these can be the best of times.
